A call of the heart

Abstract

What is at stake in the world of post-modernity is a battle of ideas and a battle between the forces of light and the forces of darkness. For all good people, it is a fight to reestablish sovereignty in our lands and to reach the ultimate goal of world history – aufheben – the religious ecstasy of all good people by the truth and law of the heart.

As we explain in the paper, this battle between the forces of good and evil has been ongoing since ancient times and today the Aryan elite is ready to once again lead the world towards redemption from evil and salvation of the heart and spirit of the good mankind, as the Aryan race is of a heavenly heart.

For victory in the war that is ongoing, the good mankind need to implement a worldwide Aryan spiritual aristocracy that will guide and protect the people towards spiritual enlightenment and liberation. We explain in the paper the failure of liberal/Marxist democracies and make a plea for the true constitution of man as a constitution of the heart.

Furthermore, we explain the call of heart that is the absolute truth of transcendental heaven and which is the characteristic of the Holy Spirit – the world-spirit.

To accomplish this task, we must acknowledge the Aryan race as the true philosopher-lover-sovereigns to rule a new world order – the White World Order, named after the blessed and holy day of the heart. We hope mankind will take heed of the call of heavens, so that we may in cooperation once again experience the absolute truth of the heavenly, immortal heart.

Spirit and freedom

”Man is born free, but everywhere he is in chains”. Such was the saying of Rousseau in his work, The Social Contract (1762). When studying the modern day society from the perspective of freedom, this saying still holds true. Even in the modern/post-modern life, mankind is kept hostage by the global control society, which Deleuze described in his paper called ’Post-script on the Societies of Control’ (1990). Foucault had the same in mind, when he analyzed the development of the modern liberal state, which he described as governed by a governmentality regime (Foucault, 2007) and by biopolitics, a biological regime, which denied people a free life, being reduced to a subservient workforce for global capitalism. In the biopolitical regime, mankind is an advanced animal, but not a spiritual free being (Foucault, 2010). Agamben’s trilogy on Homo Sacer (1998), the naked man, described the modern society as an inversion of the camp found in Nazi-Germany, where instead the normal society was kept hostages by the state and purely considered in economic terms – the economic man, as described by the liberal thinker Adam Smith in this work The Wealth of Nations (1776). The point of Homo Economicus is that mankind is governed by self-interest, thus not a collective, spiritual being, who would be ruled by any ethical dimension. The true ethical dimension is lacking in liberal philosophy, even though Kant insisted on an ethical standard (Groundwork of the Metaphysics of Morals, 1785). Speaking of the camp, Sloterdijk goes even further in his critic of the late-modern society and describes the global control society as a human zoo (Sloterdijk, ‘Rules for the Human Zoo’, 1999).

Humanism has failed in liberating the people. The grand enlightenment scheme collapsed in the brutal 1st and 2nd World Wars. The liberal states won the 2nd World War, but the ideas of enlightenment and democracy suffered due to the fierce antagonism of the axis-powers. The post-war period we term post-modernity, as the ideas of education and progress as a liberating force was undermined by National-Socialism and Fascism on the continent. Instead of education, today we have entertainment and a worldwide superficial culture ruled by self-interest and egoism. Even though they won the war, Americanism had nothing to offer the continent. Capitalism still rules the world to the detriment of the majority of the world’s populace. Yet, it is not the whole story, for today we find a developing resistance to the liberal world order from the radical right and countries such as Russia and China. During the 2nd World War, the universals of liberalism were opposed on the continent by the axis-powers and today Russia and China are proponents of a multipolar world order rather than the American, liberal unipolar world order.

It is our thesis that the acknowledgment of man as a spiritual being and of the world spirit entails a right-wing ideology, to be precise, a metapolitical ideology (see Riis-Søndergaard, 2022a) that we only find on the right-wing of the political spectrum. The election of Donald Trump and the good standing of Marine Le Pen were actually signs of the return of spirit in world politics. Spirit is key for understanding the transcendental reality of existence. The point is that exactly this aspect was ignored or outright attacked by both liberalism and Marxsim, the two dominant worldviews of late-modernity. But now a new metapolitics is the current and for that we are grateful. It is our duty to develop this new worldview and to prevail in the battle of ideas that is ongoing. To gain actual freedom, we need to acknowledge that man is a spiritual being and that the reality of our existence is transcendental.

It is our thesis that under the liberal world order, the truth of our transcendental reality was suppressed, what we call 'the ontological conspiracy' (see Riis-Søndergaard. 2022b).

An Aryan spiritual aristocracy

To replace the dominance of the liberal and capitalist world-order, we propose the implementation of a spiritual aristocracy that will guide and protect all good people and set the world free to pursue a spiritual and noble life. For too long, the truth has been shrouded in mystery. Christianity, Hinduism and Buddhism are all close to the truth and much of theosophy is interesting, but we beg to differ on the notion that the God-man was a Jew from Palestine. Instead, we have found in our investigations that the notion of the God-man from Palestine was a veiled recognition of the Aryan race as the heavenly race. The proof of this is that before the Vikings could convert to Christianity, they had to conquer Rome, where Christianity prevailed, to prove that the God-man was Aryan.

For that reason, it is natural to propose that the spiritual aristocracy to rule the world is Aryan. For too long, mysticism has been shrouded in the occult, but now a new generation of Aryans have made progress in unveiling the mysteries of creation and existence. We have done so by brand new meditations and have in that regard discovered the transcendental plane as the primary plane of Aryan existence. The problem with democracy is that only enlightened people should be able to vote. And to be enlightened, you have to acknowledge the spirit as essential to man. The problem with Marxism and most of Neo-liberalism is that they don't acknowledge man as a spiritual being. They are atheist and materialist. In a democracy, everyone, no matter if they are good or evil, are allowed to vote. And evil people have no spirit, so they cannot make an enlightened decision. This is the core problem with democracy. As Aryans, we have faith in the absolute good, that is, heaven is absolutely good. Therefore, to guide and protect man, that is, all good people of the world, for evil people don't count as mankind, as they have no spirit, so to speak, no heart, and therefore have no place in our lands, we propose an enlightened spiritual aristocracy to rule the world. As a consequence of not acknowledging man as a spiritual being, Marxism and Neo-liberalism allow evil people into their states, which undermine the enlightenment of the nation and therefore renders democracies void of absolute truth and spirit. The danger of this neglect of the two dominant ideologies of post-modernism is that the nation-states become an annex to the interest of evil people and that they therefore lose their sovereignty, for the true sovereign is defined by being able to protect good people from malevolence and to make good people prosper in the nation-states. This is the traditional pact of the ruler and the people (for further on this argument, see Schmitt, 1932). Democracies allow opposition, so to speak, but the real opposition is the antagonists of an enlightened spiritual aristocracy of Aryans. Therefore, the modern liberal/Marxist states suffer from internal discord and an influx of foreigners that don't share the same regard for absolute truth and spirit. The states become relativists and are not able to defend the heavenly crown of the Aryan race. The result is that untruth rules the states, spirit and truth are not valued properly and this is unhealthy for good people, who must witness the demise of the true and free sovereign, for a true and free sovereign is enlightened by absolute spirit and the freedom of the transcendental realm. This is the Aryan race, as we have argued earlier in the text. True liberation is spiritual liberation and this is accomplished by the Aryan race, who holds the keys to heaven. Therefore mankind must be led by the Aryan race, who are the sole caretakers of liberation and spiritual enlightenment. This is the argument, the Aryan elite wish to put forth to defend and safeguard redemption and salvation, that is, to redeem the world from evil and reach the ultimate goal of world history, aufheben. the spiritual upheaval and religious ecstasy of absolute truth, which is the heavenly heart of the Aryan race.

World spirit

"Evil people sing no songs", as Nietzsche (1885) proclaimed. As heavens, the world spirit is absolutely good, for, as we have argued, evil people have no spirit. Therefore, the truth of world spirit is the call of the heart. As Aryans, who inhabit heaven, we absolutely relate to this proposition. Evil only exists in the temporal sphere – it is worldly and could never be related to heaven or spirit, which is transcendental. This is a new discovery of the Aryan elite, who mainly reside in Scandinavia and Germany, especially in Denmark. The fundamentals of heaven and therefore of spirit are divine love. To reach enlightenment, you have to follow the law of the heart and this is only given to ontological good people, of course, for the evil ones have no heart. Good people, the Aryan elite call the Day, for we are bright and pure as the splendor of the day – our hearts are pure. We are, so to speak, white-hearted. The point is that existence is actually a battle between the good and the evil – light and darkness – day and night. As Aryans of a pure heart, a transcendental people, we have great experience in this metaphysical, occult war. We defend the world spirit, as we represent, because of our divine status and which all good people, happily the majority of the world populace, relate to. It is an ontological regime, which is a marked development since liberal and Marxist theories of universal freedom. Freedom, because of freedom regarded as spiritual liberation from evil, is only given to good people. Evil people have no freedom, for they don't belong to eternity, which heaven is. We have theoretical and experience-based evidence that we are in a metaphysical war between good and evil, for daily we fight off aggression from the evil people of the world. As Aryans, we have an occult sensitivity to good and evil, which all people have. As good people, we simply can't tolerate hatred or aggression against us. This is again a marked difference from liberalism, which has as a key tenet the tolerance for all people, disregarding whether they are good or evil. Absolute truth would not agree, for the truth is that it is a metaphysical, spiritual and occult reality and war. As Aryans, we have faith in that we have incarnated in temporality to fight this spiritual war against evil and to redeem the world from evil. This is the metaphysical truth of existence. The essence is the Aryan heaven, which is absolutely good, but existence is a war. Therefore the Aryan race is the prime caretakers of the world spirit, which we define as good, true, authoritative and legit. These are the keywords to understand absolute truth and spirit together with divine love. As Aryans, when we are near evil or are under occult attack, we become very unwell, for we cannot tolerate evil. This is proof that we are absolutely good people. We simply cannot tolerate evil, that is, hatred, aggression, lies or malintent. Dostoevsky (1877) describes how evil came into the world. The first cause of evil was, according to Dostoevsky, falsehood, which developed into individuality and science. It is a story of the fall of man. We are inspired by this story to explain the grand question, why is their evil in the world, but we don't agree with liberalism that man is capable of as well good as evil. The Aryans are white-hearted, that is, we are absolutely good for we are heavenly born of the divine love of the Aryan race-father and mother. The liberals and the Marxists ignore, whether out of ignorance or because they don't belong, the metaphysical reality of existence. Therefore, they are blind to the war between forces of good and forces of evil that we as Aryans have proven to be the fact of life. This in turn means that the two aforementioned ideologies, willfully or out of incompetence and disqualification, not are capable of defending the world-spirit and therefore the war against evil and the true spiritual liberation of man against evil. This is the complex of the modern liberal/Marxist states of post-modernity. Only the Aryans are capable of defending the good people of the world against evil in cooperation with all good people, but this takes the implementation of an Aryan spiritual aristocracy to rule the world. The promise to end evil, we call the Veda White Vow.

The teleology of world history

In that the Aryan heaven is absolutely good, but existence, the world, temporality, is rid with evil, the purpose of world history is to redeem the good mankind from evil. This is the metaphysical war of heavens against the worldly evil. The Aryans are defenders of this war, for we have a saying to explain then war that goes the following: “When war came upon us”. This means that we are not responsible for the cosmic outbreak of war, as evil and therefore temporality came into the existence, but we are responsible for liberating existence from evil, that is – redemption and salvation. This we call the Veda Wars, as the Vedas, which are the Aryan urreligion, foresaw of the world, temporal existence, as a battleground between the cosmic forces of good and evil. Today, we are especially happy that the Aryan elite has rediscovered the Vedas, as a contemporary source of perfect, divine wisdom of the collective, transcendental consciousness of the Aryan race, for the Vedas give us insight into the mysteries of creation, heavens and the metaphysical war between good and evil. The purpose of world history is, then, redemption, spiritual liberation and salvation of the good people of mankind. This is accomplished by accepting the ontological regime of absolute good and evil and by implementing a worldwide Aryan spiritual aristocracy, to see that the war of the good against evil is taken care of in a spiritual framework of understanding and enlightenment. This task the two aforementioned ideologies of liberalism and Marxism is not up for, so only a geopolitical reset, a reordering of world government, where the Aryans come to power, will solve the situation. This is the purpose of world history, for when the Aryans come to power to rule the world, we can ensure victory against the forces of evil. This we call the White World Order, named after the blessed and holy day and the purity and white-heart of heavens.

Salvation and ascension for the Aryan race, we call aufheben, inspired by Hegel's use of the term to explain the stages absolute spirit has to travel to reach its conclusion (Hegel, 1807). But for Hegel, spirit was a matter of epistemology, whereas for the Aryans, aufheben means salvation, as we via Kundalini-meditation reach our heavenly home and absolve temporality – worldliness – by the truth of the heavenly heart. But to accomplish this, we need to rid the world of evil and this is the task of the White World Order led by an Aryan spiritual aristocracy. For this, all the good mankind shall be united. But this takes actually a confrontation with the idea of the democratic rule and the American unipolar world order that is ruled by liberal capitalism – two aspects of the world dominant ideology that properly speaking deny the good mankind spiritual redemption and salvation, which is also the case for Marxism, and especially for the Aryan race, which is of a heavenly heart. All good people will reach salvation, but the fundamentals of heaven are Aryan. The use of term aufheben is a new invention by the present generation of the Aryan elite. It means upheaval and for the Aryans it means religious ecstasy, just as the ancient philosopher Plotinus explained in The Enneads.

We wish for the spiritual leadership of the world to recognize and get accustomed to this new concept of religious ecstasy, so that we may work in cooperation to implement a White World Order for the spiritual liberation of the good mankind, for this is the inner truth of the Aryan race. In the future, the world shall be enlightened by the metaphysical paradigm that the Aryan elite has discovered, so that we may finally reach our destination and fulfill the promise of world history – aufheben. This is the telos of world history and the fate of the good mankind, for it is written in the Vedas, which are supernatural as the Aryan race is supernatural and of the heavenly reign. So shall the world be ruled by the Kingdom of Heavens. This is most important task of the present generations of mankind to accomplish and we will never waiver in our pursuit for spiritual liberation and salvation. Again, we wish to emphasize that the present world order is not up for the task to ensure victory in the war of good versus evil. Only the heavenly reign of the Aryans will accomplish this task. Therefore we propose the implementation of an Aryan spiritual aristocracy.

A call of the heart

The metaphysical paradigm, we wish to present, we term: a call of the heart. As Aryans, we have faith and experience that there is a call of heaven. This is the call of divine love, absolute truth and righteousness. We fathom this call by, what we have discovered to be, transcendental intuition. That is, the heart of good people speaks absolute truth. This capability is enhanced, when we probe the transcendental for clues to the mysteries of creation and the truth of existence. This can only be accomplished by good people, for good people are related to the Holy Spirit – the world-spirit. When probing for truth and insight, the Holy Spirit will be his or her guide to wisdom. So there is a call from heaven. It is natural, for the truth of creation is the primacy of the Aryan heaven and the fundamentals of the Aryan heaven are divine love, absolute truth and righteousness – spirit to be precise. This is a divine gift for good people, for this is how the Aryan elite has discovered our origin and destiny as a race and this we call race-mysticism, for heavens is given to the Aryan race. But good people of the earth will also have a place in heaven, for their spirit lives on and is called forth by the Aryan race. As such, we as good people have a destiny which is eternity and eternal bliss. This is heavens and what we fight for. All good people must recognize this absolute truth of life and ally with and support the Aryan race in bringing about a White World Order. This is, as we have noted in the last section of the paper, the purpose of existence. It is to be by the heart – to have faith by the call of the heart. This is the inner truth of the good mankind.

The reality of the call of the heart means that we as the good mankind must learn to meditate on the mysteries of creation and the purpose of existence. This is not normally taught in the Western schools as of today. Instead, the schools are saturated with logical learning and political, so called, correctness – a liberal and Marxist paradigm for tolerance, relativity and universal acceptance of preferences. Therefore we, as the Aryan elite, propose a paradigm-shift towards a metaphysical and spiritual education of the people, so that we may once again experience this reality of the absolute divine. This is what is at stakes in the world as of today and in post-modernity.

The politics that are prevalent today are all about economics and biopolitics – a global control society. But true politics are about the inner truth of the good mankind – the unveiling of the truth of being (Heidegger, 1927) and the transcendental potential of the political body. This is the task of the philosopher-lover-sovereign. As such, our vision of political state formation and government is more akin to Plato's Politeia (375 BC), in which is described the rule of the state by a philosopher class of enlightened rulers. This is the Aryan race, as the Aryan race is divine and of a heavenly heart. It would be a grave mistake for mankind to give the keys to the governmental offices to anyone else.

The truth of the good mankind is the call of the heart and to supervise mankind on the path towards spiritual enlightenment, we need accomplished and competent people of spiritual integrity and righteousness. There is a cause, the great cause, and this cause is the heavenly reign of the Aryan race on earth. This White World Order has always been the inner truth of all wisdom-religions, so there is a tradition. Furthermore, today it is prevalent to deny the existence of races. This is a lie by the liberal/Marxist world order, as the Aryans are incarnations and reincarnations of the heavenly heart. We will never let those evil forces deny our claim of the call of the heart and our status as true philosopher-lover-sovereigns – the rulers of heaven and the future rulers of earth, for this is the absolute truth of existence, which must be accepted by the good mankind. As Aryans, we have visions of a pre-historic age, before civilization and the cosmic war began – a transcendental bliss, and this bliss we wish to reenact today, as we come to power for the spiritual liberation of mankind. For all good people, we wish the best, and good luck in implementing a spiritual aristocracy in the world by the call of the heart. Thank you for the support.
