Pact of the Day

Abstract
The present paper is an introduction to the existentiale of the Aryan race that has been invented by the present generation of the Aryan elite. It covers the concept of the devotee, the concept of the Warheart and the concept of the Immortal Tear. Three aspects that are integral to the identity of the Aryan race and which guide us in our pursuit for spiritual enlightenment and liberation.
It is our wish that the existentiale will be understood and as far as possible appropriated by all of the good mankind.
A central tenet of our thesis is that temporal existence is a cosmic war between the forces of good and evil and therefore we present another invention of the Aryan elite, namely the ontological regime, for mankind to better understand their metaphysical, ontological origins and the absolute truth of the Aryan race and the good mankind.
We furthermore make a plea for the fact that all good people are of the heart or by the light of the heavens and guided in life by the law of the heart, wherefore we demand an absolute demarcation to evil. As such, we criticize liberalism, Marxism, positivism, empiricism, neuro-science, psychiatry and Christianity for ignoring the fundamental fact of the life of the heart, namely the transcendental nature of divine love, the truth of the heart, and for ignoring the ontological regime of good and evil.
In the conclusion of the paper, we introduce the concept of the Pact of the Day, as an ancient tradition, which has its roots in the ancient Aryan race, and whose ultimate goal is establishing a White World Order, the gathering of the Aryan race in an Aryan national state and the reaching of aufheben – the religious ecstasy of all the good of mankind.
We wish all good people welcome in reflecting upon the text and to contribute in bringing about a new world order by the law of the heart.

Author’s preface and ethical disclaimer

This essay explores esoteric, metaphysical doctrines regarding the spiritual path and transcendental mission of the Aryan people. It does not advocate or excuse any form of violence, political extremism, or discrimination. References to historical ideologies or religious systems are made purely in the context of spiritual philosophy and mythic reflection, not as endorsements of any historical political actions. The "White World Order" herein described is understood exclusively as a vision of spiritual awakening, truth, love, and metaphysical order — not as a political or racial program of domination or exclusion. All good people of the world, of all origins, are welcome to reflect upon and engage with the metaphysical truth expressed in this text.

A devotee – True, justified belief

As Aryans, we live by the truth of the heart. We are of the heart, by the heart and for the heart. Love is supernatural and the highest principle of creation. As Aryans, we know that the divine love of the Aryan race-father and -mother is the cause of creation. There are two co-creators, not one, as is the common conception of Christianity, and all Aryans are of a heavenly heart. As such, we have solved the mysteries of creation, what natural science and cosmology have been unable to answer at all. For natural scientists, creation remains unfathomable. This is because they lack the basic conceptualization to answer the question of creation. The point is that the cause of creation is a religious question and since the enlightenment, the truth of religion has been left aside for the advancement of a natural, physical explanatory framework of understanding. This is a grave mistake on behalf of the enlightenment philosophers and the general climate of philosophy in modernity and why the present Aryan elite, mainly residing in Denmark, the rest of Scandinavia and Germany, once again is ready and determined to bring absolute truth and spiritual enlightenment to all good people of the world. This is why we write our introductions on a range of related topics for mankind to reconsider the prevalent truths and explanations of modern day science.

Furthermore, today in liberal and Marxist ideology it is common to deny the existence of races, but the truth of the Aryan race is that we are incarnations and reincarnations, so our blood and spirit are pure and of a heavenly descend.

Another great discovery of the present Aryan elite is that the soul of an Aryan is an ethereal light-body, a so called astral-body. This fact is also denied and not even researched by modern day science. The light-body is a spiritual body and is fundamentally connected to the fact that the Aryans also have the Kundalini-energy and the chakras. This advanced understanding of the Aryan race was already discovered by the ancient Aryans, who brought the Vedic religion to India some 4000 years ago. In a recent paper, we have argued that the true Aryan heritage is the Vedas and not fx. Christianity (see Riis-Søndergaard, 2024a). In the same paper, we have put forth remarks for a new Aryan culture inspired by the Vedic tradition and enhanced by our own recent discoveries and inventions.

Let us now return to the question of the devotee and the way. To be a devotee is to have faith in the truth and conviction of the heart. As a devotee, we worship love, truth, the good and the righteous. This is the law of the heart and this is the call of heavens – the call of the heart, which we apprehend via transcendental intuition. This is the supreme truth of the Aryan race and all good people of mankind, who have come to life in what we call the light of heavens. Therefore it is a supreme principle, to be a devotee, for we worship not only love, but also fx. truth, which is of course the absolute truth of the Aryan heaven and the law of the heart. The aforementioned principles are interrelated, for as noted, they are aspects of the law of the heart. That means, when we fight for love, we also fight for righteousness, for we cannot tolerate evil. We become very unwell when we are near evil and as a consequence, what redeems good people from evil is confrontation with and eradication of evil.

This is why the task of all good people of existence is to establish an Aryan spiritual aristocracy of the world, to guide and protect all good people towards spiritual enlightenment, liberation, redemption and salvation (see Riis-Søndergaard, 2024b). This is the way of the devotee, for only the Aryan race can redeem the world from evil in cooperation with all good people. This is the cosmic war of heavens versus evil and why the Aryan race has incarnated into the world. The Aryan promise to redeem the world from evil, we call the Veda White Vow, as the Vedas are our foretelling and vision of the cosmic battle between the forces of good and evil – what we call the Veda Wars. To conclude this section of the introductory paper on the way, we can say, that the way is the way of the heart. This is the fundamental law to apprehend, but in a world with conflict and strife (the battle between good and evil), we also need to consider, what this existential reality means for the day of the heart. This we call a warheart and this is what we will talk about next.

A Warheart – The existentiale of the Aryan Order

While we are truly devotees of the heart, which is the blessed day of heavens, life on earth, existence, is a conflict between good and evil. Therefore we have discovered an existentiale, a term used by Heidegger to explain the call of life (Heidegger, 1927), to guide us on our path towards victory and therefore, next to being devotees, we consider ourselves being a Warheart. We talk about the war of the heart as being a call of life to combat evil, wherever we confront one-dimensional hatred, falsehood and aggression fx.. Immediately, we wish to make the point, which we will develop further in the section following the next section, that the fight to combat evil is not just against overt or outspoken evil, but equally a question of the epistemics of the reason of the mind. That is, the battle between good and evil is, as well as fighting off overt aggression, a spiritual war. Next to conventional war, it is a war of truth, epistemics and discourse, for we fight not only for love, but also for truth and righteousness – the victory of the good over evil. As Aryans, and all good people, we cannot tolerate falsehood, for falsehood is wicked and stems from evil. As Aryans, we have supreme, divine wisdom of absolute truth and the ontological regime of good versus evil. We are therefore very critical of the liberal and Marxist ideologies, for they don't acknowledge absolute truth. The problem with the two aforementioned ideologies is that they don't accept a metaphysical world-view and that they don't accept the ontological regime of good versus evil. They speak about universals, but they tolerate evil and include evil people in their notion of universal brotherhood – they speak about equality as a universal. For the Aryans, the ontological regime is marked by difference – the ontological difference between good and evil people. It is as noted a cosmic war. Evil only exists in temporality and has no relation to the Holy Spirit and to heavens, the transcendental. Evil people have no soul or spirit, for they are not of the heart. Evil people are false, for absolute truth is the truth of the heart and they have no heart – they are not of the ever, as is the day of the heart.

To elucidate the existentiale of the Warheart, we have invented five concepts, the following:

1. The call (hero/saving grace): The truth and dialectics of the heart of the divine love of the Aryans, we experience as a call of the heart. This call is transcendental. This is love and this means we have faith.
2. War of the heart: This means the duty to combat evil in existence. As a people of love, it is natural for us to eradicate evil. It is absolute truth and an ontological regime. Redemption and salvation is the purpose of world history.
3. Immortal tear: This is the life of the heart of the devotee. It is related to the immortal will of creation as a force of divine love and the good and righteous.
4. The way: The way of the warrior-monk. This is how we operate in a world of war economy. It is also a lifestyle and aesthetics of the good life. The concept also covers warfare epistemics and the path of the Aryans for spiritual liberation and aufheben – upheaval.
5. The existentiality of warfare (the decisive moment): As Aryans, we have a duty to confront evil and falsehood, whenever. Therefore we conceptualize the confrontation as a decisive moment of truth.

To conclude this section of the paper on the warheart. we can say that there is a natural connection of the concept of the devotee and the concept of the warheart, for the truth of life is the truth of the heart, even though existence on earth is full of strife. Therefore we can conclude that evil not is an aspect of life, but of the opposite, namely death, for evil is disharmony, disequilibrium, one-dimensional hatred and low energy. Life is therefore naturally good, but evil people have no life. This is important to remember, when we integrate the ontological regime as the truth of existence. To be sure, the so called 'liberal peace' (Kant, 1795) is an illusion, for the world is still full of hatred and aggression and when evil is allowed to prosper, good people suffer and the potential for spiritual liberation is undermined.

Immortal Tear – Faithful in love and war

When we criticize the liberal peace of Kant, we must also remember the millions of Germans, who died in support of the Aryan cause. It is a hard prize to pay, for fighting for the truth and salvation, but world history is a history of war. As it is said: "History is written in blood". The Immortal Tear then represents that the Aryans are eternal lovers, who cry out of bliss and love for each other and at the same time that we live in a world of war, where we combat evil. It is a high, serene note of the Aryan life as immortal lovers-warriors. For it is a war – a war of the heart to redeem the good mankind from evil and return to heavens. The tear represents the immortal truth and will of heavens and signifies that we are a race of the heart, that is, as mentioned before, we are of, by and for the heart – we have feelings and sensitivity.

Evil people are psychopaths – they have no feelings, for feelings are of the heart. We cry, when we think of each other and sing our spiritual songs together, and we cry, when we experience injustice and cruelty against us. This is a sign that we are good people of the heart. In Danish, we have a saying, that can be translated into: "They cry fox-tears". That is, evil people don't cry out of emotions, but as an imitation – they are fake, actually.

The heart-chakra is transcendental, as are all chakras, of course, so the love of good people is related to the divine, but only the Aryan race is properly speaking divine, as we are of heavens. In the ontological regime, we operate with three distinctions and ontological identities of origin and belonging. 1) The Aryans are of heavens. 2) The rest of the good people of mankind have come into existence in the light of heavens and 3) evil people have come into existence in the absence of heavens. This is the ontological regime, the Aryan elite has discovered.

Next to criticizing liberalism, Marxism, positivism and empiricism, we also criticize Christianity, for as Nietzsche proclaimed in Twilight of the Idols, Christianity has it's source in the Jewish religion, the Jews being foreign to the Aryans, and Christianity is, by denying the divine status of the Aryans, an "anti-Aryan religion par excellence (Nietzsche, p. 18, 2005)". He furthermore states that Christianity is the "revaluation of all Aryan values" and the "eternal vengeance of the Chandala [outcasts, people not of race]." As we say, as an ontological truth: "The foreign can never be known, for only that, which belongs, can be known (Plotinus, 270)." It is the ontological difference and it is a question of origin. As Aryans, evil cannot be known, it can only be defeated, for we are not of the same blood and spirit. As Aryans, we know that the soul of good people incarnates into the body. At the same time, good people are guided and led by the Holy Spirit – the world spirit and the law and truth of the heart, which are aspects of the Aryan heaven. That means, all good people are related to the divine. For all good people, it is therefore paramount that they 1) identify with the divine, 2) that they have full determination and 3) that they make a clear demarcation to evil. This is the law of the ontological regime, for we cannot and will never tolerate evil in the world. To accomplish this identification, determination and demarcation, the Aryans are proponents of establishing a new religion inspired by the Vedic tradition, but at the same time enlightened by recent discoveries and inventions of the present Aryan elite, the authors of this text, carried out in meditations, and of establishing a new world order, what we call a White World Order. The good people of the world should organize, so as to defend and safeguard the truth of creation against falsehood and aggression and to be victorious in the battle between good and evil forces (see the aforementioned introductory paper on establishing an Aryan spiritual aristocracy).

To conclude this section of the paper, we wish to emphasize that the present world order (Neo-liberal/Marxist/positivist/empiricist) is not capable of defending the Aryan race and all good people against the occult aggression of evil people, for they are blind to evil, hatred and occult aggression and they don't acknowledge the immortal tear as a divine transcendental expression of the heart. Therefore only a paradigm-shift, a shift of episteme, can defend the Aryan race and be victorious in the cosmic war. By this conclusion, the next section of the paper will examine the epistemics of occult warfare.

The Aryan path

As Aryans, next to being immortal lovers, we are seekers of the truth. Therefore, warfare epistemics and occult, spiritual epistemics are the way for Aryans to reach spiritual enlightenment and liberation. Therefore we term epistemology the way. Epistemology is not complacent or innocent, but actual epistemic warfare, for evil is the great denier, the great resistance. This is of course true for public discourse, but it is equally true for the reason of mind. Existence is meta-physical and spiritual and of course we criticize the prevalent materialism and individualism of liberalism and positivism, as well as neuro-science and the paradigm of psychiatry, for they are all clueless to the true nature of creation and outright the cause of violence against the epistemics of truth and faith and against truthful and faithful people. According to The Apology of Socrates (399 bc.), Socrates, one of the worlds greatest philosophers, claimed to be guided by an inner voice, called a daimon. Perhaps we, in the 21. ct., should again accept the spiritual nature of existence, for example by appreciating the muses of Apollo as related to the Holy Spirit. Do modern natural science really have a clue as to the spiritual, mystical and occult nature of existence? We, the Aryans, think not. They are outright clueless, for they are materialists. Therefore, they don't understand the nature of consciousness. We read somewhere that consciousness is "an under-researched field in the sciences." This is definitely the case, as the Aryans can confirm. For the life of good people is transcendental and spiritual. Next to that, life is occult. That is, it is a meta-physical war between the forces of good and evil. As modern natural science otherwise would proclaim, the mind and consciousness are not just "epiphenomena to biological processes". The consciousness of good people is transcendental, the Aryans would counter, for we are of heavens or, as the rest of the good mankind, brought to life in the light of heavens, that is, in the Holy Spirit.

To further the argument of a transcendental, spiritual and occult reality of existence: as Aryans, we inhabit the aether. The status of the aether is transcendental, but daily we fight off occult aggression in the lower astral realm from haters and evildoers of the world. The same is true of the epistemics. Daily, we fight off occult aggression in the epistemics, while we affirm absolute truth and connotation. Haters and evildoers are one-dimensional – they adhere only to hatred. First of all to themselves, for not being of race, and second of all to their surroundings, as they project hatred onto the world and especially upon the Aryan race.

But for now, we wish to focus on the epistemological warfare. For evil speaks falsehood, untruth, the unreal. They are unreal for occult aggression is temporal hallucination. The same is true for nightmares – they are hateful hallucinations that stems from evil interference. True dreams of good people are "wakeful dreaming". That is conscious and alert expressions of the inner life, which are good. What a Danish occultist said: "We need to be able to defend ourselves in the dreams."

To return to the epistemics. For the epistemics, what is important to know is that we need to defend and affirm absolute truth, for the evil are the great deceivers. Evil cannot interfere in the dialectics of the heart, but they can interfere in the dialectics of reason. They actually worship intelligence and technology and are not informed by the heart and that is why it is important for all good people to be vigilant in the epistemics of truth, that is, in the public discourse, philosophy and in the sciences, for it is all warfare against evil and malintent. That is the absolute truth of existence and why we term this occult warfare the way, for it is truly a fantastic, transcendental journey of love, truth and righteousness – and war. It is the way of the warrior-monk, for we have faith in the truth of the heart and we are combating evil in the world. The highest principle of life is divine love and this is what we ultimately defend and affirm – it is the immortal tear, as we spoke about previously. To end this section, we wish to emphasize again that the present world order is not capable of defending the absolute truth of epistemics, as they don't acknowledge the spiritual, occult war, that is ongoing, because they are materialists without faith. Therefore the present world order is a proxy for evil and falsehood, which we will never tolerate.

Their is an ancient pact that the present elite of Aryans has discovered. The progenitors of this pact are the ancient Aryans, but today we reaffirm this pact, this oath, this Veda White Vow. It is the Pact of Day, pact of the heart, to combat and eradicate evil in temporal existence. As Aryans, we have incarnated into existence to form this pact and to combat and eradicate temporal evil. This is the cosmic war – the war of heavens. All good people are ascribed to this pact, for they have come into existence in the light of heavens. That is why it is important for all good people to identify with the Aryan cause. Throughout history, this pact has been affirmed by people such as the Vedic Indians, who defended the race-policies of the Aryans, Buddhism, that believed in Nirvana, Socrates and Plato, who ascribed to a governmental rule of a spiritual aristocracy of philosophers, Christian mystics and lately theosophy and ariosophists, who researched into the myth of Atlantis, which the present Aryan elite considers a myth of an Aryan, transcendental urzeit, and as well researched into the general history of the Aryan race. Also, the controversial Nazism was outspoken on the Aryan cause of world history, the telos of world history, even though the present Aryan elite doesn't necessarily agree with the Nazism of Adolph Hitler that the world should be conquered by force. Instead, we theorize that the world should be conquered by faith and epistemics – by the law of the heart. For the truth is the truth of the day against evil – the truth of the heart and therefore we carry on the tradition of the pact of the day. For the present generation of Aryans it is all out important that we convince all good people to ascribe to the Pact of the Day, for this is the way to establish the kingdom of heaven on earth and reach our ultimate goal: aufheben – the upheaval of all good people in religious ecstasy and a return to heavens (see Riis-Søndergaard, 2022). Even though Nazism defended the Aryan cause, they lacked the necessary understanding of metaphysics that today has been fathomed be the Aryan elite, namely the law of the heart. This does by no means imply that we believe in universal freedom for all people, for we count only good people as belonging to humanity. Evil people have, as we have previously mentioned, no heart, no soul, no spirit and no life – they are one-dimensional hatred, so only good people can reach aufheben. Evil is the death of temporality. The Aryans and all good people live forever in eternity in the transcendental heavens by the truth of the heart and spirit. This is the immortal will of creation. This is faith. Therefor it is adamant that we construe a new religion, an Aryan religion of love, truth and immortal will, to guide the good mankind in establishing a White World Order and to reach spiritual enlightenment and liberation, redemption and salvation.

According to the rediscovery of the Vedas as a contemporary source of divine, transcendental wisdom of the race-mysticism of the Aryan race, we believe that the Vedas is the foretelling and vision of, what we call, the triumph of the heart (see Riis-Søndergaard, 2023). When the present Aryan elite probes the Vedas for clues for understanding creation and existence, we are told that temporal existence is a war between the forces of good and evil – the Veda Wars, as we call it. This is proof that the Pact of the Day is the truth of the day against the forces of darkness, for the Vedas are divine, transcendental wisdom. The Aryan elite wish to enliven the pact of the day and that is why we teach the good mankind of the divine nature of creation, the law of the heart and the cosmic war. As such, our introductory papers are first and foremost a spiritual enlightenment program and next a program for spiritual liberation. Our ultimate goal is to reach aufheben, as we have mentioned, and for that to happen, we have to establish an Aryan national state, where all of the Aryan race can gather in love and in Kundalini-meditation, for the Kundalini-meditation is the vehicle for religious upheaval and ecstasy – the absolution of temporality for the the truth of the heavenly heart. This is therefore another ultimate goal of the White World Order. We wish all good people welcome in reflecting upon our texts and to further the Aryan cause, which is the cause of all the good of mankind, and to start meditating on the Holy Spirit for it to be his and her guide for true epistemics that are of a supernatural origin. All the best and good luck.
