Abstract

This crucial and groundbreaking essay comes from the long line of the genealogy of the Hyperborean Siddhas and Viryas, united to resist the New World Order (NWO) and death-drive of the false light of Shambala – the enlightenment of modernity, namely the "modern episteme". As representing the true light of Agartha, in this essay we seek to construe a new model of "ethereal resistance" to the dark forces of modernity, who uncompromisingly seek to keep mankind enchained and enthralled in matter and illusion (maya). The essay is "a plea for soul, heart and spirit" to once more be acknowledged by the good mankind, so that we together may rise and resist the nefarious schemes of the Demiurge and its minions in the battle for the Holy Spirit and the World Soul. We present groundbreaking and original insights into the coordinated, ethereal efforts of the Aryan Order (AO) to resist and combat the dark system of modernity in an faithful, peaceful and epistemically sound way, so that mankind may yet again taste the nectar of the immortality of the soul, reach spiritual enlightenment and liberation, which are the ultimate teloi of world history, despite what materialist science nowadays would have us believe. We beg our readers to read this essay carefully, so that we may join forces, and continue the Great Work of establishing the "New Ethereal Atlantis" for the advancement of all the good of mankind. But be aware, spiritual, ethereal resistance is a "cut-throat business".

Author's preface

This crucial and groundbreaking essay comes from the Hyperborean Siddhas themselves, organized in the Aryan Order (AO) and the International Defense-force of Aryans (IDA), jointly established in Denmark in 2017.

The true Aryans are no more than between 10.00 and 100.000, but we are aligned with the Hyperborean Flame and the Immortal Tear, combating the inversion and subversion of modernity.

Since 2017, we have been active in forming the primary resistance in Denmark, Scandinavia and Germany to the Demiurgical Liberal/Marxist world order in a peaceful, epistemic and faithful way.

But make no doubt about it, it is a war, no matter how much the powers-that-be would like to deny that fact and reinforce their dominion over "the hearts and minds of men" – it's a spiritual war for the soul of mankind.

In this essay, a follow-up to a previous essay from this year on the topic of occult geopolitics, we seek to establish the basis of a spiritual, ethereal resistance to the New World Order (NWO) – "the system", enforced by psychotronic weapon-systems – organizing the true counter-force of the Siddhas and the Viryas united, worldwide.

Please do take into account that we are peaceful and benign academic/political organization, and that our primary method of resistance is in epistemics and faith. We do not condone any sort of physical violence, coercion etc., and only seek to bring true spiritual enlightenment and liberation to the good mankind, in the name of the truth and the heart.

Let the truth stand alone, in the name of the Immortal Heart.

What became of the resistance? – A new model for resisting the global control-society and Skynet

Despite the recent worldwide awakening to metapolitics, we are still suffering from the suppression, repression, deception, manipulation, coercion and violence from the ancien régime that also goes by the name the New World Order (NWO). The deep state seems to have a tight grip on the top echelon officials of the world's nations, despite continuing resistance from the New Right. The deep state operates under seemingly benign phrases such as liberalism, democracy, humanism, tolerance, human rights etc., but those terms actually veil a much more sinister and insincere agenda of elite world dominion, corporate globalism and wealth concentration in the hands of the very few (Vitali et al., 2011), not to mention the metaphysical aspects of the dominion of such a "control-society" (Deleuze, 1992), which we will also study in this essay. The present, but crumbling, world order is a Liberal/Marxist world order, and both of these seemingly divergent ideologies, the victors of the world war, share the same fundamental belief in economism, that is, as materialist worldview. It's a reductionist world order, but actually, the jumping point in all of world history is our conception of metaphysics and the metaphysics of war (Evola, 2021), but since the age of reason, the Enlightenment, all talk of metaphysics proper has been relegated and sidelined by the "modern episteme" (Foucault, 1966), especially in the Western world, but also increasingly in the East due to the effects of globalization, supplanted by a materialist, empiricist worldview. But we see a metapolitical awakening, a resistance to the NWO, fomenting all over the world, so the question of this essay is: How come the Hyperborean Siddhas of Denmark, Scandinavia and Germany must continue to suffer the repression of the Deep State in the form of severe psychotronic attacks against our leadership, when in the USA we have Trump in power (who apparently helped us a lot in our initial Aryan awakening in 2017 during his first term), and in Russia we have Putin in power (who is considered one of our greatest allies in the struggle against Skynet)? For more on the allies and antagonists of the Aryan Order (AO), see our first essay in this series on occult geopolitics (Riis-Søndergaard, 2025a). Who are really behind (read deep state) the nefarious psychotronic attacks on the AO leadership, if not even Trump or Putin can prevent this aggression? For more on the psychotronic warfare scenario, see a range of essays we have written on the topic (Riis-Søndergaard, 2024a; 2025b; 2025c; 2025d). Is it not the utmost hypocrisy of the NWO to speak about the "technological singularity" as some sort of technocratic utopia, when at the same time they attack the light-bodies and crown-chakras of the Hyperborean Siddhas so vehemently? See our essay on the struggle between the two orders, the White Order (aufheben) and the Black Order (technological singularity), and the conflicting eschatological visions, for more on this issue (Riis-Søndergaard, 2025e). So when the Aryans are continuing to suffer, despite recent advances in metapolitics, what we propose in this essay is a new mode of resistance, which relies (primarily, but not only) on "strengthening the ethereal resistance", as this form of combat and struggle is hyper-intense on the metaphysical, spiritual level. First, we got to be true to our hearts, souls and spirit, and to strengthen that collective communion of the resistance, if we seek to make real-political changes for a better and liberated future. We need total identification, total dedication, total determination and total demarcation on the spiritual level, if we are to succeed in turning over the ancien régime. In this essay, we will investigate how to achieve this spiritual alignment and coordination, and we will investigate how to operate the aether in a metapolitical sense. The occult war is first and foremost fought out in "the hearts and minds of men" (Sargant, 1961), so the spiritual level is crucial, if we ever seek to build a new order. It's a struggle of individual souls, but also a collective struggle, if we shall ever have the prospect of building the "New Ethereal Atlantis". We will in this essay first take a look at the fundamentals of the ethereal resistance that we propose, where after we will investigate some ideological distinctions and define som tactics in the occult war, before we in the last three sections will develop a modus operandi for spiritual, epistemic warfare and ethereal resistance etc..

Operating occult geopolitics – Constructing the ethereal resistance

To understand the transcendental, psychic aether is perhaps the most crucial, but also most well guarded secret of modern times – it was well known to the ancients. For a recent introduction by ours on the psychic aether, see Riis-Søndergaard (2025f). How come the knowledge of the aether was almost lost in recent times? The answer is the aforementioned "modern episteme" of rationalism, positivism and empiricism, which conceived of all Being as mere physical, biological and chemical processes, that is, a materialism. What followed from there was a total denial of the psychic life of man, which became considered, mildly speaking, "fantasy fiction". But the psychic aether should be nowhere close to being described as a figment of imagination, if we do not at the same time understand that the aether is actually the true and primary, spiritual-poetic realm of the good mankind. It is from the aether (read our soul) that we have our thoughts, emotions and atmosphere, but it is also the primary scene of the metaphysical, cosmic and spiritual war. Now, the idea of the "ethereal resistance force" of the White Order is that as good people we should be aligned with the Holy Spirit (pneuma hagion/spiritus sanctus) and that we should by all means necessary protect, defend and liberate the World Soul (psychē kōsmou/anima mundi) from the encroachment of evil. The primary habitat of the soul is the psychic aether, and as such this is the first place we should defend ourselves. We must build a collective knowledge and appreciation of the aether, and we must teach the good mankind how we shall be spiritual victorious in the cosmic struggle by defending the World Soul. The idea of spiritual, ethereal resistance is that when many good people, aligned with the Holy Spirit, join forces in the ethereal struggle to liberate the World Soul, we cause the effect of a multiplied spiritual intent, which is the most powerful force of spiritual resistance in a metaphysical sense, much like how the concept from quantum mechanics of "spooky action at a distance" works, but this force multiplier is in a spiritual sense an exponentiation of intent. It's important to know that to achieve this effect, one must be "pure of heart", as Blavatsky (1980) stated, for only then will the Holy Spirit be his or her guide. We will now present the core ideas of how to operate the occult, ethereal politics, individually and jointly:

1. Core strategy and operational procedure
    a. Concentration, meditation and visualization: We start by going into a deep state of meditation, where we gain access to a higher state of consciousness. We connect with the transcendental plane. We reflect upon truth and justice.
    b. Occult World Map (OWM): The resistance units shall first of all envision a full-scale world map. This is the starting point for any ethereal operation, and how we create the spiritual, ethereal alignment necessary. It is the common framework for uniting in spirit.
    c. Karma* and *katharsis: We operate under the truth of karma, cosmic justice, and the purification of the World Soul. More on this later.
2. Tactical operations of allies (defensive)
    a. Esoteric intel: A primary objective is to gain access to esoteric intel held by our comrades.
    b. Mobilization, organization and coordination: Vibes and support among allied nodes.
    c. Resistance: Defend the world soul from malintent, deception and negative vibes.
3. Tactical operations against enemies (offensive)
    a. Strategic surveillance of enemy black nodes: Keep heat on black nodes, Deep State etc..
    b. Analyze the Skynet, psychotronic grid: Focus on revealing the Skynet infrastructure.

The total state vs. the deep state

Here we present the ideological crux of the spiritual struggle, metapolitics (Aryan) vs. parapolitics (Deep State), that allied forces may know exactly what to look for in contemplating occult geopolitics:

Dimension	Total State / Metapolitics (Viereck)	Deep State / Parapolitics (Peter Dale Scott)
Foundational Orientation	Ideological totality; philosophical-cultural superstructure shaping political action.	Hidden networks, clandestine systems, and covert hierarchies beneath formal political structures.
Primary Realm	Metapolitical (cultural, philosophical, mythic).	Parapolitical (covert, extrajudicial, clandestine).
Self-Image	The State as the embodiment of an absolute Idea or cultural destiny.	The State as a façade; real power belongs to covert networks and shadow hierarchies.
Legitimacy Source	Ideological unity, collective myth, political theology.	Secrecy, intelligence operations, elite networks, economic interests, covert agreements.
Visibility	Public. Identifiable. Operates through open institutions.	Non-public. Hidden. Operates through "invisible governance."
Actors	Leaders, philosophers, cultural elites, ideological institutions, political parties.	Intelligence agencies, transnational corporations, mafias, cartels, rogue elements of military and intelligence services.
Primary Mechanism of Power	Centralization, propaganda, cultural engineering, education, ritual politics.	Black budgets, covert ops, disinformation, false-flag events, irregular warfare, shadow financing.
Philosophical Goal	Create a unified civilization based on a metaphysical worldview.	Maintain elite continuity, geopolitical advantage, and system stability through covert means.
Political Teleology	The State strives toward an ideal or destiny (e.g., empire, spiritual unity, ideological fulfillment).	No official teleology; practical, opportunistic, self-preserving; governed by realpolitik and clandestine necessity.
Relationship to Law	Law is an extension of the State's metaphysical mission; laws can be rewritten to support ideological totality.	Exists outside or around the law; uses blackmail, corruption, loopholes, and legal gray zones.
Relationship to the People	Mobilizes the masses; demands participation; "political religion."	Manipulates the masses; avoids scrutiny; cultivates apathy, distraction, and plausible deniability.
Metaphysical View	The State as a spiritual organism; politics as an extension of myth.	The State as a hollow shell; the real power lies in hidden, material, often criminal networks.
Methods of Warfare	Total war, ideological war, moral war, cultural war.	Hybrid warfare, narco-politics, proxy wars, covert destabilization, psychological operations.
Information Strategy	Propaganda, myth-making, national narratives, ideological education.	Controlled leaks, blackmail archives, clandestine media infiltration, deep propaganda ("metapropaganda").
Continuity Mechanism	Ideological inheritance; cultural institutions; political education.	Deep networks, continuity of intelligence elites, interlocking directorates, black budgets.
Core Weaknesses	Risk of fanaticism, rigidity, collapse through ideological exhaustion.	Risk of fragmentation, criminalization, internal betrayal, uncontrollable secrecy.
Examples	Nazi Germany, Soviet ideological state, Imperial Japan's kokutai ideal, modern ideological technocracies.	Iran-Contra system, Gladio networks, CIA/supranational deep structures, narco-state alliances, transnational covert power blocs.

Tactics of hybrid warfare

We now present a diagram on the tactics of hybrid warfare, so that we may be better armed in defending ourselves against these deceptive practices. Now, a main reason for engaging in hybrid warfare is to create the effects among the adversaries of fear, anxiety, confusion, unease, distrust, that is, the hybrid warfare works mainly by military indirect means to sow societal and political discontent. Therefore, these tactics are relevant to know, when we seek to defend the World Soul and psyche of the resistance from irregular, enemy incursions. To conquer a people, one must ultimately conquer its collective psyche, so the hybrid warfare tactics are important to be aware of, and to defend against. Do indeed by yourself contemplate an expanded scheme of these tactics, so that we may know that the adversaries are utmost speculative and manipulative against the resistance, for example in the very attempt to create disassociation and low morale among the resistance. This is not just state-against-state warfare, but generally speaking a epistemic war on consciousness from a diverse set of state and non-state actors, the "deeper layers" of occult politics and world history, as Evola (2002) wrote about:

Tactic category	Description	Examples / Manifestations	Strategic aim	High-level mitigation / defense (non-operational)
Kinetic operations	Use of conventional military force, irregulars, proxies	Limited incursions, targeted strikes, sabotage of infrastructure	Coerce, degrade, signal capability	Harden infrastructure, incident response plans, international reporting & diplomacy
Unmanned systems / Drones	Use of UAVs for ISR, disruption, or kinetic effects	Airspace incursions, ISR overflights, small strikes	Deny freedom of movement, provoke disruption	Airspace monitoring, temporary closures, forensic attribution, international coordination
Cyber attacks	Operations against networks, control systems, data	DDoS, ransomware, ICS disruption, exfiltration	Disrupt logistics, sow confusion, steal intelligence	Network segmentation, backups, SOC monitoring, threat intel sharing
Disinformation / black propaganda	Deliberate false narratives across media	Fake news, deepfakes, astroturfing, forged documents	Undermine trust, polarize populations, mask attribution	Media literacy, trusted channels, rapid rebuttal, platform reporting
Political/Legal Pressure	Use of law, bureaucracy, sanctions, covert influence	Legal cases, lobbying, covert financing of actors	Legitimise influence, constrain opponents	Transparency, oversight, legal counsel, coalition diplomacy
Economic measures	Trade/supply manipulation, covert economic leverage	Sanctions, market manipulation, supply-chain disruption	Coerce policy, create dependence	Diversified supply chains, contingency procurement, economic buffers
Proxy / irregular forces	Use of militias, deniable actors	Local insurgents, mercenaries, deniable special-ops	Plausible deniability, local destabilization	Intelligence-sharing, community resilience, counter-radicalization
Psychological operations (PSYOPS)	Targeted influence on morale and perceptions	Leaflets, social media campaigns, targeted messaging	Shape behaviour, induce fear or compliance	Resilience training, credible messaging, community engagement
Economic/ Infrastructure sabotage	Disruption of power, transport, ports	Grid attacks, transport stoppages, supply-blocks	Disrupt daily life and logistics	Redundancy, emergency planning, rapid repair capabilities

Tactics of PSYWAR and PSYOPS

Let's now dive deeper into the very psychological operations of hybrid warfare, so that we better may enhance our armory of self-defense against the the most manipulative schemes of the war on the psyche. These epistemic wars are very real, and basically what the NWO relies on the most, when it comes to keeping the domestic populace subjugate by ignorant/manufactured consent (Herman and Chomsky, 1988), and in keeping the resistance disaggregated, incompetent and boneless:

Domain / Level	Common PSYOPS / PSYWAR Tactics (Systemic)	Purpose / Typical Effects	Ethical, Nonviolent Countermeasures	Practical Implementation / Examples
High Rhetoric & Messaging	Repetition of simple slogans; moral panic framing; polarizing binary narratives ("us vs them"); demonization of opponents.	Simplify complex issues; mobilize emotion; delegitimize rivals; reduce nuance.	Promote narrative plurality; teach rhetorical awareness; inoculation against emotional shortcuts.	Public workshops on rhetoric, university courses on critical discourse, editorial policies requiring nuance, curated annotated rebuttals.
Disinformation / Strategic Lying	Deliberate falsehoods, doctored evidence, fake quotes, recycled myths.	Confuse publics; erode trust in institutions; manipulate decisions.	Rapid fact-checking, provenance verification, transparency standards, source audits.	Independent fact-check networks, browser tools showing source provenance, centralized debunk pages with citations.
Astroturfing & Manufactured Movements	Fake grassroots groups, paid commentators, coordinated botnets.	Create illusion of consent; manufacture trends; sway policy debates.	Platform transparency, disclosure requirements for paid advocacy, bot detection & reporting, platform policy enforcement.	Research papers exposing networks, regulatory advocacy for disclosure laws, community reporting coalitions.
Cultural Co-optation	Infiltrate arts, pop culture, festivals with propaganda themes; normalize ideology via entertainment.	Shift cultural norms subtly; recruit sympathizers through aesthetics.	Support independent art, funding for pluralistic culture, critical arts education.	Grants for civic arts, public reviews analyzing ideological content, artist roundtables on ethics.
Academic Capture & Pseudo-Science	Funding research with hidden agendas, ghostwritten papers, predatory journals, pressure on academics.	Manufacture legitimacy; create "expert" backing for false claims.	Research transparency, preregistration, open data, ethics audits, diversified funding.	Institutional conflict-of-interest policies, repositories for data/code, whistleblower protections, reproducibility checks.
Political/ Institutional Coercion	Legal harassment, gag orders, selective enforcement, capture of regulatory bodies.	Silence critics; institutionalize policies favorable to operators.	Rule of law reinforcement, legal defense funds, civic oversight, public accountability.	NGO legal clinics, FOIA campaigns, ombuds offices, independent anti-corruption bodies.
Media	Purchasing outlets,	Control agenda-	Diversify media	Support local

Domain / Level	Common PSYOPS / PSYWAR Tactics (Systemic)	Purpose / Typical Effects	Ethical, Nonviolent Countermeasures	Practical Implementation / Examples
Manipulation & Ownership Concentration	placing friendly editors, coordinated messaging across channels.	setting; narrow public debate.	ownership, public media funding, media literacy, journalist unions.	independent outlets, subscriptions to noncommercial media, press freedom watchdogs.
Psychological Targeting	Microtargeting using behavioral data, fear appeals, identity-based appeals, tailored emotional triggers.	Drive behavior through individual vulnerabilities; polarize communities.	Data privacy protections, limits on political microtargeting, psychological inoculation training.	Campaign finance reform for ad transparency, privacy regulations (data minimization), public campaigns teaching recognition of manipulative ads.
False-Flag & Provocation	Staged incidents blamed on opponents; engineered crises to justify measures.	Manufacture pretexts for policy, discredit movements.	Independent incident verification, multi-source corroboration, transparent chain-of-custody for evidence.	Rapid response verification teams, open-source intelligence (OSINT) verification practices, forensic repositories.
Narrative Hijacking & Historical Revisionism	Reinterpret past events to fit present agenda; selective memory.	Shape identity and legitimacy claims.	Critical historiography, open archives, pluralistic education curricula.	Public history projects with diverse voices, curriculum review boards, archival digitization with metadata.
Economic & Coercive Levers (Sanctions / Rewards)	Economic pressure on institutions/media/individuals to enforce compliance or silence.	Incentivize conformity, punish dissent.	Financial transparency, whistleblower protections, alternative funding streams, cooperative economies.	Crowdfunded newsrooms, nonprofit research funding pools, international legal assistance for pressured NGOs.
Legalistic & Bureaucratic Obstruction	Weaponize regulations, audits, permits to delay/dismantle opponents.	Exhaust and neutralize civil actors.	Regulatory reform, legal preparedness, rights education, streamlined civic procedures.	Legal rapid-response networks, “know your rights” training, watchdog monitoring of enforcement patterns.
Information Saturation / Noise	Flood channels with trivial or contradictory information to bury truth.	Obscure meaningful facts; induce apathy.	Curation, trusted lists, “signal” amplification, algorithmic transparency.	Trusted aggregator platforms, library humanities projects curating verified resources, algorithmic audit advocacy.
Divide-and-Conquer Social	Promote factionalism inside movements,	Weaken collective action;	Conflict mediation, coalition-building	Facilitated dialogues, coalition governance

Domain / Level	Common PSYOPS / PSYWAR Tactics (Systemic)	Purpose / Typical Effects	Ethical, Nonviolent Countermeasures	Practical Implementation / Examples
Fracturing	exploit cultural cleavages.	substitute internecine conflict for external focus.	practice, cross-cutting dialogue spaces.	charters, intergroup exchanges with neutral facilitation.
Psychological Warfare (Fear / Anxiety / Learned Helplessness)	Constant crisis framing, threat inflation, helplessness messaging.	Produce compliance, reduce civic engagement.	Psychological resilience training, community mutual-aid networks, transparent risk communication.	Public mental-health outreach, community resilience centers, transparent public risk dashboards.
Legal/Policy Capture of Science	Politicize evidence, appoint loyalists to advisory roles, suppress inconvenient science.	Distort policymaking; erode institutional credibility.	Scientific independence charters, advisory appointment transparency, independent peer review.	Independent scientific councils, open consultations, public publication of advisory minutes.
Counter-Narrative & Smear Campaigns	Personal attacks on critics; character assassination; doxxing.	Silence dissent; delegitimize individuals.	Legal protections, media ethics enforcement, solidarity networks, digital security training.	Legal defense funds, rapid rebuttal communications, digital OPSEC training for activists/journalists.
Covert Funding & Patronage	Hidden grants, shell NGOs, think-tanks advancing covert agenda.	Create veneer of legitimacy, seed friendly research/policy.	Funding transparency laws, donor registries, due-diligence for partnerships.	Public registries of donors, independent vetting of partners, ethical funder lists.

From a glance at this diagram on PSYWAR and PSYOPS, it becomes clear that the options of psychological manipulation of the public are plentiful, and that under the Liberal world order, this is the strategy relied on by the insincere power-holders. Liberal governmentality is all about creating the illusion of participation, sovereignty and responsibility among the publics (Foucault, 2004): The public believes to be in power and that the politics are an expression of their "inalienable rights" and "sovereign will", but in all reality, they are more of an uninformed mass, caving in to the norms, normality, the mass-consensus of the herd, manufactured by an increasingly scrupulous and dominating elite, whose web of epistemic control weaves ever deeper into the psyche (unconscious) of the naive public, who has never been taught anything different through their rites of public schooling, workplace, and mass media consumption. According to Lukes (2004), the third dimension of power, the power over consciousness, should be understood as the ultimate level of power, for if the public doesn't know any better, they will cave in to the will of the power-elite, of course, but there is in man an inherent resistance to being lied to, deceived and manipulated, and this is the innate will that we seek to cultivate in our writings – the sovereign will of the soul to be free. If we think we are free, but lack the proper understanding of occult geopolitics, esoteric metaphysics, the psychic aether etc., this freedom is no more than an illusion, a "false consciousness" (Horkheimer and Adorno, 1944). If we are convinced that the soul doesn't even exist, we are at loss with our own reality and Being, and so becomes readily subjects to the materialist, behaviorist world order – we fight this ignorance.

Spiritual, ethereal, epistemic warfare – The Occult World Map (OWM) and strategic surveillance

The liberal world order would say that any injustice, any falsehood, any fallibility is due to "systemic err", "individual incompetence" among the officials, etc. – in short, they claim their "system" to be ideally perfect, but from a metaphysical perspective, the "errs and injustices" of the NWO are premeditated, decisive and orchestrated, perhaps not superficially on the surface levels of regular politics, but by the true ruling class, the Black Lodges/Deep State, those who do the bidding of dark forces, hell-bent on denying mankind its inherent spiritual potential for enlightenment and liberation. There is indeed a concerted effort to deny true metaphysics, deny the existence of the Hyperborean Siddhas, and to deny the very existence of soul and spirit. The way our adversaries go about this complete denial (covert denial, which legitimizes overt aggression) is by the tactics of inversion and subversion – they control what is true and what is false – epistemic control of the consciousness of the masses. The main mode of inversion is by indoctrination into "the doctrine of materialist self-evidentiality", which basically leads to the ultimate self-denial of the psychic life of the subjects, rendering man at will to the dark (psychic) forces (the postulated "unconscious"). In reality, there is no unconscious, only a cosmic, spiritual war of liberation, as all Siddhas (perfected, liberated masters) and Viryas (wise warriors) will know. We have written about these topics in other essays, so now we wish to dwell on the tactics for countering the dark forces and their manipulative schemes via ethereal warfare operations. Let's now turn to the idea of and how to operate the Occult World Map (OWM) as we introduced in the second section of the essay. The main point of the aether to consider by the Siddhas and Viryas (for more on these two terms, see the important work of Nimrod de Rosario (1985; 2022; 2023)) is that the Holy Spirit is the "living word", that is, when we meditate, we must be utmost vigilant in defending our thoughts/psyche against manipulation, malintent and deception, which can go very deep and can be very subtle – in short, existence is an epistemic battle between the forces of light and darkness, for if we hold false beliefs, we will be even the more easier subjugated in false consciousness. So first and foremost, we must meditate and probe the Holy Spirit for clues as to the nature and fabric of creation. Without this divine inspiration, we run amiss in defending the essence of our souls. When we visualize the world map, we don't do so in any mundane sense, but what we do is summoning all allies, summoning the structure of existential reality, and giving structure to our perception of reality, so that we may intuitively know the military-strategic situation that temporal existence is – it is a sort of "mastermind map of reality", which we are conjuring, that encompasses all intents, vibes, interests and activities of mankind, good and bad, for we are dealing with the Holy Spirit, the utmost reality of Being. We can then start to ask questions, probe the map, or we can call for allies to support our meditations – this is the battlefield, the Valplads, where Odin and the Valkyries choose their soldiers of honor and valor. The main offensive tactics of the OWM is "strategic surveillance". Here, we are giving the basics of a deeply esoteric topic, but many more aspects of ethereal resistance can be contemplated by the interested "seers". Who were the seeresses of the ancient Nordic/Aryan people? They were the Valkyries and Norns of the Goddess Freya, who with Odin would engage in spiritual, ethereal warfare against the dark forces of Hel. This is the true occult reality of the myth of the Valkyries (many of whom were later executed by the Roman Church). It is the occult "psychosocial strategy", as Rosario (2023) describes the true doctrine of the SS to be. We are dealing here with the true and essential nature of the forces of light and darkness, a reality, which is deeply suppressed in the modern episteme. Odin and the Valkyries were practitioners of the magic sejd, battle-sorcery against the demons of Hel/Hades/Hell. Basically, all temporal existence should be considered a "phenomenology of spirit" (Hegel, 1807), and a "magical battle" of Maya, as is portrayed in the Vedas. We are fighting for "the soul of the race", as Rosenberg (1930) stated, so utmost vigilance, dedication and loyalty must be given to military-strategic situation and the ethereal resistance, led by the Aryans.

The strategy of karma and katharsis

There are three types of epistemological evidence: 1) deduction (pure logic), 2) induction (statistics), but then the third level of epistemological reasoning, 3) abduction (inference), famously used by Sherlock Holmes. In the third level of epistemic reasoning, we rely on intuition. The epistemic, phenomenological, magical battlefield of Valplads is basically a scene of abduction, inference and intuition, because the more we focus on the OWM, the more "dark interference" there is likely to be in our reasoning, for do indeed remember, the dark forces are hell-bent on keeping the illusion of maya, the Matrix, alive. At the same time, while not as clear as a deduction or induction, the abduction is clear in the sense that we are guided by the principles of karma and katharsis – that is, the truth and law of the heart – so in that sense, it's a higher form of reasoning. So the territory of the OWM is muddy – these are the true, occult "dirty wars" (Agee and Wolf, 1978). Basically, both allies and adversaries claim to be legit, "good", truthful and benevolent – this is "the propaganda war" (Ellul, 1973). Edward Bernays (1928) in his book on propaganda, the Nazi propagandist, Goebbels, and the American political scientist, Harold Lasswell (1927), also gave insights into the use of propaganda to "cause a premeditated, predetermined effect on the public psyche", so as to render mankind "obedient subjects and serfs". Of course, the jumping point is the enlightenment of mankind as to the true nature of the spiritual fabric of life, so that we may make an enlightened and informed decision as to the true nature, purpose, telos and destiny of mankind. Propaganda should not only be viewed in the negative, as Bernays, Lasswell and Ellul claim, but should equally be seen a a necessary aspect of "epistemic warfare" against the evil, Demiurgical system. The idea is that the dark forces seek to manipulate the public by "black, gray and white propaganda", whereas the White Order only stands for white propaganda, so as to enlighten mankind of its true spiritual potential, for "magna est veritas and praevalebit". So karma is our principle, and katharsis is our method. In a higher, metaphysical order, we must cleanse the World Soul from lies, deception, manipulation and unwarranted psychic control and subjugation, so that mankind may rise yet again to reach for the stars and traverse the (ethereal) skies to reach our true origins in spirit – this is the struggle for freedom, not only a secular, materialist freedom, as is always professed by the Liberal/Marxist order to be the only and ultimate idea of freedom and accomplishment, but a spiritual enlightenment and liberation, which is of the transcendental and the ever – being true to the heart of heavens. In the final section of this essay, we will present a scheme of the three modes of epistemic reasoning. All aspects of reasoning are valid and complementary for the occult war. Where deduction goes from universals to particulars and produces certainty, as in Hegel's (1807) "absolute certainty", induction goes from particulars to universals and produces probability, and abduction goes from effect to possible cause and produces plausible hypotheses. Now, is the presence of "ontological, alien evil" not an anomalous effect that we ought to explain and counter by abductive skills, for "the foreign can never be known", as Plotinus (270) said? So in the occult war, in the analysis, there remains an "uncertainty", just as in quantum science, an "epistemic residue", due to the antagonists being unreliable, and basically ontologically "false", imitative and cunning. What we can be certain about is the truth and law of the heart, which can be grasped in "transcendental deduction" (Kant, 1781). To defeat the "fog of war", the state of abduction, to get a clear and certain picture of world actors, we must align with the Holy Spirit, transcendental intuition, and probe the heart for answers to the question of good and evil. Also Nietzsche (1886) contemplated the nature of good and evil. While we agree with Nietzsche that modernity has muddied the waters of morality, to the extent that the distinction of good and evil seems to have been twisted or inverted, we don't fully agree with Nietzsche that "the will to power" is the only fundamental truth of existence. We cannot solely rely on a "nominalist" notion of strong and weak, but must also take into account the actual status-quo power-relation in a higher metaphysical (moral) sense of truth and power.

Diagram of epistemic reasoning – Deduction, induction and abduction

Let's end this essay by presenting a scheme of the three modalities of epistemic reasoning, so that our comrades may better know how to operate the spiritual, ethereal, epistemic war in terms of probing the Holy Spirit for truth and falsehood. It is important that our epistemology is as pure as the day, so to speak, so that we may effectively counter the false pretense, insincerity, lies and deceptions of the dark forces:

Aspect	Deduction	Induction	Abduction
Definition	Reasoning from general principles to specific conclusions. If the premises are true, the conclusion must be true.	Reasoning from specific observations to general principles or rules. Conclusions are probabilistic.	Reasoning from an incomplete set of observations to the best possible explanation. Conclusions are plausible, not guaranteed.
Core Question	"What must logically follow?"	"What general pattern is likely given these repeated cases?"	"What is the most reasonable explanation for this surprising fact?"
Mode of Reasoning	Formal, linear, rule-based → moves from universal → particular.	Pattern-based, generalizing → moves from particular → universal.	Hypothesis-generating → moves from effect → possible cause.
Strength of Conclusion	Necessary truth (if premises valid).	Probabilistic truth.	Tentative; dependent on context and competing explanations.
Typical Evidence Used	Premises accepted as axioms, rules, or definitions (e.g., mathematics, formal logic).	Empirical data, repeated observations, statistical trends.	Surprising facts, anomalies, incomplete evidence requiring explanation.
Primary Function	To prove results with certainty.	To predict or generalize patterns.	To interpret, infer causality, or generate hypotheses.
Domain of Use	Mathematics, formal systems, logic, ontology.	Science, statistics, social sciences, pattern-analysis.	Investigative reasoning, intelligence analysis, diagnostics, phenomenology.
Vulnerability or Limit	Only as strong as its premises; if the initial axioms are flawed, the deduction collapses.	Risk of over-generalization; patterns may not hold universally.	High risk of error if alternative explanations are ignored or unknown ("inference to the best available explanation").
Example (Classical)	"All humans are mortal. Socrates is a human. Therefore, Socrates is mortal."	Observing thousands of swans that are white → hypothesis "all swans are white" (until falsified).	Finding footprints → hypothesis that someone walked by (best explanation given the evidence).
Example (Philosophical / Metaphysical)	From axioms of being → derive necessary metaphysical consequences.	Studying repeated psychic/phenomenological experiences to detect common structures.	Encountering an anomalous event → constructing hypotheses about its ultimate cause or meaning.
